For Your Consideration...

There are some really great Bible study materials out there but the start up costs can be daunting for a smaller church. One of the advantages of being part of our movement is making use of our MBC video library.

We own three Beth Moore studies (“A Woman’s Heart”, “Believing God” and “Breaking Free”) as well as “God’s Story” by Ann Graham Lotz. We’ll be glad to loan these materials to your group for the cost of postage and all you’ll have to do is purchase the student books. If you are looking for something to use in your small groups, why not avail yourself of this opportunity and benefit from the blessings that will come from using this terrific Bible study material. If you’d like more information, please call Becky Wehr at the MBC office.

FROM THE FIELD...

“In order to become more kingdom-focused, every church has to seriously engage the issues that present the church to the world and seek ways to communicate what the church senses is God’s agenda. If a church is serious about asking the question, ‘Why can’t our community hear what we are saying?’ it will examine its personality carefully in light of the ethos of the Kingdom of God and it will take the necessary steps to modify, enhance, or change its personality in order to be the kind of witness to the world the gospel demands.”
